Orbit

When a rocket ship is sent off into space, the safety and success of the mission is monitored by mission control through vital information sharing. The communication link is the literal lifeline between the crew on the ground and the crew in orbit. Through F⁴C²P². Mission Control, with the help of F⁴'s faith teams, monitors the progress of each orbital student utilizing a 'broadband communication link' that includes e-mail, telephone, audio-visual media, care packages, prayer, and financial support.

Jesus said to his followers, "Go everywhere in the world, and tell the Good News to everyone.

Mark 16:15 (NCV)

The Great Commission charges Christians to go into every sphere of life and tell people about Jesus. A college education is a time-tested and proven way to open doors into new spheres of life in this world. F⁴C²P² is designed to assist college bound seniors in preparing for success in the greatest door-opening period of their lives.

The Program...

The program is administered through five monthly seminars beginning in January, each focusing on a different aspect of the college experience from an unashamedly Christian perspective. Students who successfully complete all five seminars advance to the orbital portion of the program, in which care, accountability and guidance are provided by F⁴ Faith Teams and Mission Control throughout the students' collegiate career. In addition, these orbital students participate in an exciting, power-packed blast off event in June as F⁴ launches them into their future.

Each seminar is led by a constellation of qualified persons representing three relevant strata: professional, recent college graduate, and current college student. These persons help to equip students in preparation and decision-making in the following seminar foci:

Seminars

- S January 21 – Spiritual, focusing on spiritual foundations for success.
- A February 25 – Academic, focusing on academic stratagem and preparation
- V March 25 – Vocational, focusing on vocational objectives and positioning
- E April 29 - Economic, focusing on economic realities and responsibilities
- D May 20 - Dating, focusing on dating pressures, pitfalls and potentials

Blast Off!!! June 25, launching into college with gifts & connections

All seminars meet from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. Breakfast and materials are freely provided.
